

The NOF Group is working on various initiatives to ensure the Five Components of Safety. The Group classifies its RC activities into “Five Components of Safety” comprising environmental safety, plant safety, product safety, labor safety, and transportation safety. Every year, we set RC activity targets, key issues, and implementation items, which are then applied to specific measures for each works, plant, and Group company. These activities have been implemented since 1995. In addition, “dialogue with society,” including information disclosure and exchanges with local communities, has been added to the Five Components of Safety as a theme of the activities.
