Establishing a contact point from outside the company

We recognize that compliance is fundamental of our business operations, and we believe it is important to prevent incidents that violate laws, regulations and our Code of Ethical Conduct before they happen and rectify them at an early stage. We also consider it useful to receive reports, opinions and comments from our business partners and other stakeholders from the viewpoint of respect for human rights.

Therefore, we have established a dedicated contact point for compliance (Compliance hotline) from outside our company on our website.
