Abstract

Nucleic acid medicines hold tremendous promise for infectious disease, oncology and a range of metabolic diseases yet are limited by delivery characterized by low tolerability, off-target effects and nondurable responses. New advances in lipid technology have enabled well tolerated lipids, combined with tailored LNP formulations that are poised to open a new era in programmable, genetic medicines.

Learning objectives (3 objectives):

- Learn about delivery challenges associated with genetic medicines
- Benefits of biodegradable ionizable lipids for tolerated in vivo delivery
- Future trends in LNPs for targeted and extra-hepatic applications

NOF CORPORATION invites attendees to visit booth #1713 to explore our innovative drug delivery solutions and engage with their experts.
